THEATRY.-The Webb sisters played or Saturday night to a very fair audience, although their performance merited a much better one. The last piece, "Miss Fidget," is one well calculated to exhibit the extraordinary imitative powers of the sisters,-Sixteen different characters are presented in rapid succession, each one of which is a musterpiece in its way; a dutch girl, a French dansense, an opera singer, a yankoo rious parts of the old world for the past century.—
Although the article is very cheap and simple, put Twe Guer,-The contemptible villain who last winter and spring frightened half of Claveland by appearing in the role of a ghost upon sundry streets, has opened an other season with the same game. A gentieman walking along Seneca street, between But the instratha about blackness, the rich browns. St. Clair and Lake, about 8 o'clock last eventhe universal appearance, the assessation of pride and ing, saw his ghostship emerge from a blind alley. Now, if this trifling with the feelings of others resulted merely in startling a few men, it would still be reprehensible, but when it is considered that women and children have been frightened to death by such apparitions, it becomes a serious matter, and no mercy should be shown the culprit. He deserves to be knocked down, spitted upon a bayonst, or shot like a dog, and the man who will do this will receive the thanks of the community. We will warrant that cold lead, or a sound hickory club will find something more tangible to operate upon than thin sir.

"RIDE & COCK-HORSE."-A young man is southing, healing, and now rful strangth ning | present writing, but whose complexion, we should suppose, would but ill withstand the ravages of coal-smoke incident to so populous a locality, went the other evening, young men are wont to do, to call upon a lady friend. In the course of conversation ed that she thought all men of a suitable age ought to take up arms and go into the field. The gentleman agreed with her .-"My preference," said he, " is for cavalry; and the only thing which prevents my offering my services to protect the country in that espacity, is the uncertainty of getting gentle horse," If the Government would but take a hint om this little incident, and provide a certain number of palfries of undoubted sobriety and steady-going qualities, we have no doubt but that the ranks would receive large accessions of such doughty warriors as the young man referred to.

A Swasn Ur .- Last evening about eight 'clock, a party of partially intoxicated inividuals went to the saloon of Charles Stein, corner of Harmon and Scoville street and took in more fuel. When payment was tendered, a dispute arose concerning a bill; and the outsiders, taking matters into their wn hands, commenced a systematic 'smashing up" of the Interior. Shelves vere torn down, bottles and tumblers went the way of all glass ware, and the windows were torn out completely.

Three arrests were made, and the police were in search of the others during the night.

THE 7TH OHIO,-There is no need to say anything in praise of the Ohio Seventh Regment at this late day. The record of their ampaign in Western Virginia is the highest praises, which they can receive. At the battle of Cross Lanes, as is well known, vary little money, without loss, is incredible .many of the men were put hors du comba from one cause and another, and in conse quence some of the companies are deficient in numbers, Capt. Asper of Company H. as reached this city for the purpose of recruiting for the regiment, and attention is called to his advertisement in another column. Capt. Asper's office is at Cosmopolitan Hall, Ontario street.

THE RACE. The race at the county fair grounds took place on Saturday in the presence of quite a concourse of people. The match was for a purse of $20 for pacing horses, and there were four entries.

Dayton, Man, and of Madiou. he did in the following instance, it is time to hunt up the sausage man. A gentleman who does business on Superior street, has a tine, large dog, of the "mastic" species, as the lady said, who is on good terms with the horse, and is in the habit of getting into the buggy to see that ne unauporised person drives off with his equine friend. On Saturday last, the gentleman caned his establishment, which was standing at the store door, to a friend who wished to drive some two miles up town on a little business. The friend started off, and reachng his destination, entered a house, leaving the horse hitched in front. "Bose" had watched the strange person get into the buggy and drive away, and in obedience to what he conceived to be his duty, concluded to keep an eye on things and trotted after. When the borrower had finished his business, he came out, and unhitching the horse prepared to get into the buggy, but was anluted by a low growl and a liberal display the dog!" Cleveland and Toledo Railroad. Attention has been lately directed to the shares of the Cleveland and Toledo railroad, which have advanced 5 per cent. within a lew days. This company, as every one is aware, used before 1857 to pay regular divitends—ranging from 5 to 10 per cent. annually—and the stock used to sell at 50@80 per cent. In 1857, like all all other North-ern and Western roads, the Gleveland and Toledo got into difficulties. To meet its inierest payments, it was compelled to sell income bonds at a heavy discount, and its marnings fell off so heavily that dividends were suspended, and the company was left with a small but embarrasing floating debt. Ever since then the bet earnings of the road have been applied to the liquidation of this debt; and, fifteen months ago, it was reduc-ed to something like $250,000. The condition of the property was then so promising and its treffle so good, that some and segacious capitalists of New York un-dertook to dispose of the floating debt by funding it, at, we believe, 95 per cent. The negotiation fell through in consequence of the distrust created by the first me disunion. It is now probable that it will be revived, and if it is carried through, the resumption of dividends on this stock will follow as a matter of course. Last year the Cleveland and Toledo earned 4 per cent. on its steek after paying interest, expenses, &c. This year it will do better, in consequence of increase activity of the brendstuffs movement.-Cin. Gaz.

A Loso Aruy.-Men marching in files are usually more than three feet apart; horses, whether cavalry or artillery, need twelve leet; a wagon in a train with four horses occupies fifty feet. Between April 15th and October 1st, Ohio issued 45,998 muskets and 7,541 Enfield rifles, (purchased out of State appropriation). In the same time she issued 471,823 rations, and expended $263,363,35 for aubsistance of troops.
